

Receiving certificate

Once the individuals have completed the assessment activity (quiz or practical task) they will automatically receive a badge for passing the course. This badge is not a formal certificate of achievement but can be shared on their social media platforms (including LinkedIn) or stored to an online wallet.

Wood Training will be notified when someone is assigned a badge and will get in contact within 10 working days to process the certificate. You may be asked to supply a copy of the ID document you chose when setting up your online account before your certificate can be issued.

If you think that you have completed a course but have not been contacted within 10 working days, please contact info@woodtraining.co.nz
